

SOME REMARKS ON THE LOGISTIC EQUATION

Torsten Lindström
University of Kalmar, Sweden

ABSTRACT

The logistic differential equation is usually seen as a cornerstone when modelling intra-specific competition. In this talk we discuss different ways to derive this equation and what underlying assumptions make the use of the logistic equation appropriate. We also give examples for when a logistic assumption is not appropriate and explain why.